SUMMARY: This symposium opens with a statement by Senator Robert Packwood in which he says that Congress has gradually given much of its power away to the presidency and has failed to provide creative legislative leadership. He feels that the proper corrective is to strengthen the Congress. The remainder of the panel of political scientists and journalists discuss how the presidency has become excessively powerful, arrogant, and often corrupt.

I'm going on. O Lord let thy will be done. Preaching tonight on the old camp ground. My baby gone and she won't be back no more. Fare you well daddy, it's your time now. The Lapsy Band: Sing on. Dixie. Going up the country, don't you want to go. I shall not be moved. The ship is over the ocean. Mama, don't fear my clothes. Nearer my God to Thee. Like my Lord. I'm all right now since I've been converted. Just over in the Gloryland. When I lay my burden down.

Duration: ca. 15 min.
SUMMARY: Dr. Raymond Davis of the Brookhaven National Laboratory describes the method by which researchers are attempting to capture neutrinos—tiny uncharged particles without mass which are a byproduct of solar fusion. He explains that the tank in which they are captured is located one mile deep in a South Dakota gold mine.
